Commentary

The K2 Asian Fund returned +2.69% for the month and +13.4% over the past year.

Asian markets experienced mixed returns in August as China's policy reset and associated uncertainty around which sectors might be next in the firing line has left investors licking their wounds. In contrast, their more developed global peers continued to move higher throughout as investors gained comfort with the Fed's tapering timetable and unwillingness to raise interest rates in the foreseeable future. Chairman Powell's Jackson Hole speech further re-iterated this position. With the likelihood of "policy error" diminishing, long duration technology stocks who require low discount rates for valuation support were the biggest beneficiaries.

The great inflation debate appears to have taken a back seat but that is not to say it has gone away. Despite 10yr bond yields still remaining somewhat subdued at 1.30% indicating that any inflation will most likely be transitory, we believe it is being driven down by international investors who are attracted to yields greater than zero.

Positive contributor to fund performance included NZ listed aged care provider Ryman (RYM) and expanding Australian financial services firm MA Financial Group (MAF). MA Financial delivered a strong 1H result; profits were 93% higher than last year which enabled the company to lift full year profit growth guidance to 20-30%. RYM announced an 82% improvement in its 1Q cash receipts and acquired another site in Melbourne. RYM has rapidly established a strong foothold in Melbourne with a landbank of 12 sites. We envisage that over the next 5 years the value of RYM's Melbourne assets will surpass $4 billion.

The AUD fell -0.45% to 0.7311. The fund is currently 82% hedged to the AUD providing capital protection against a rising AUD.

The fund remains fully invested and positioned towards the more cyclical and consumer discretionary parts of the market. As major economies continue to re-open part of our focus is on identifying companies exposed to improving economic activity. Overall, equities will continue to benefit from accommodative monetary policy and governments enormous amounts of fiscal spending by historical standards.
